ENVENTURE ENHANCES EUROPEAN EXPERTISE TO SUPPORT REGIONAL DEMAND FOR SET® TECHNOLOGY

HOUSTON, June 9, 2008— Enventure International, L.L.C. today announced the addition of two senior technical sales advisors, Richard Craig and Mervyn Newberry, to its European sales team in Aberdeen, UK. The appointments support the company's goal to help operators in the region drill and produce more efficient wells. Enhancing technical expertise enables operators take greater advantage of the SET® solid expandable technology offered by Enventure.

"We are pleased to announce these new appointments to our regional sales team. With combined experience of more than 40 years, we consider both Richard and Mervyn industry veterans," said Kevin Stewart, general manager for Enventure's Europe, West Africa and Scandinavia regions. "We expect their strong technical and operational skills will help clients derive the greatest value and benefit from the utilization of expandables."

Richard Craig brings more than 20 years of oil and gas industry experience to the Enventure sales team where he will be responsible for optimizing SET technology applications within the Danish and Norwegian markets. With a background primarily focused within the drilling sector with Noble Drilling Corporation, Craig most recently held managerial and business development positions for a service company in Scandinavia, Middle East and Caspian regions.

Enventure has also hired Mervyn Newberry as a senior technical advisor to help expand SET system application in Continental Europe and the United Kingdom. He joins Enventure from a drilling and cementing company where he served as sales manager and helped successfully grow the company's international client base. With a career spanning more than 20 years, Newberry has held roles within the manufacturing and quality assurance/quality control sectors. His vast product knowledge from subsea trees to completions and drilling equipment is expected to bring greater benefits Enventure clients.
